LEAGUE ADMITS ALBANIA FRIDAY, UNANIMOUS VOTE

Membership is Now 47 Nations—Soviet State Black-balled

UKRAINIA IS REJECTED
Chile Informs Assembly She Will Support the Argentine Amendments

GENEVA, Dec. 17.—The league of nations assembly today unanimously admitted Albania to the league. This brings the membership of the league up to 47 nations. The committee on admission of new members had recommended against admitting Albania.

Albania is a wild and desolate country in the Balkans bordering the Adriatic. It was formerly part of the old Turkish Empire before the first Balkan war. After Albania was created into an independent state Prince William of Wied was selected as ruler of the country by the big powers, but his reign collapsed after brief duration.

The assembly refused to admit Azerbaijan and Ukraine. (Azerbaijan is one of the new states to which the war gave birth. It lies in Asia on the Russo-Persian border. Ukraine was formerly part of the Russian empire. It is now controlled by Soviet Russia.)

The assembly refused to admit the principality of Liechtenstein to the league. With the exception of Monaco and San Marino, it is the smallest state in Europe. It borders Switzerland.

N. W. Rowell, of Canada, and Lord Robert Cecil moved the admission of Albania despite the committee report recommending non-admission of this country. Mr. Rowell hotly denounced the treaty of London, which provides for the partition of Albania as "immoral and unjust." According to this treaty Albania was to be divided among Great Britain, France, Italy and Greece. As the debate drew to its close, H. A. Fisher, officially announced Great Britain had changed her mind and would support the admission of Albania.

The Chilean delegation today presented to the league of nations assembly a communication from the Chilean government expressing sympathy for the attitude of Argentina and promising to support the Argentine amendments when they are taken up at the next meeting of the assembly.

The manner in which the big powers in the closing hours of the assembly meeting have put the strangle hold upon the former German colonies defying the contentions of the United States and some of the smaller nations has aroused bitter feeling.

The report of the mandate committee admitting inability to do anything, was thrown upon the assembly today without recommendation. "They have handed the opponents of the league of nations in the U. S. and elsewhere a very strong weapon," said Charles J. Doherty, of the Canadian delegation.

E. N. Gametfelder, chairman. W. W. Smith, vice-chairman. J. B. Smith, secretary-treasurer. These officers were made a committee of the whole to select the various project committees to have charge of the line of work that Tiverton-tp will carry on during this year.

PARK COMMISSION IS APPOINTED BY MAYOR TO HANDLE CITY PLAYGROUNDS

Timmons, M'Keown, March Form Board to Direct Recreational Plans—Community Building is Part of a Tentative Program Outlined By Ex-Service Director

Mayor W. S. Tish has appointed F. S. Timmons, J. M. McKeown and W. W. March as members of the city park commission. Mr. Timmons is appointed for a term of three years, Mr. McKeown for two years and Mr. March for one year.

The park commission was created by popular vote at the November election. It had the endorsement of almost all civic bodies. One of the immediate purposes in the establishment of the commission was the construction of a swimming pool and municipally-supervised playground at Fairlawn park.

The duty of the park commission is to take charge of the parks or any other public grounds or buildings for public recreation. They are vested with full power to make any necessary repairs, improvements, or additions to the buildings and equipment.

The commission may adopt and enforce any regulations pertaining to the parks that the members deem necessary.

The commission, if in need of funds, may issue bonds or levy taxes with the approval of the city council and if turned down by the council may submit the matter to the voters.

Meetings of the commission must be held once a month to discuss improvements or regulation of the affairs and a report must be sent to the city authorities.

Mayor Tish expressed his hope that a greater interest would be taken in the parks and a greater effort put forth by the citizens of Coshocton to provide a clean meeting place for the people of the city. It is his desire that plans for a centrally located community building will be brot forth in the near future. In his opinion, such a building backed by the people of the community would add materially to the upbuilding of the town. At the present time there is no place to accommodate a large public meeting, and when such meetings are attempted only a small percentage of the people is represented.

Mayor Tish has in his possession an excellent drawing made by former Service Director R. S. Blinn for a large community building. This building was arranged to contain a gymnasium, auditorium, pool and billiard room, reading room and many other accommodations, to be open to the public for recreational purposes.

NEXT YEAR'S AUTO TAGS CANNOT BE USED UNTIL JAN. 1

Instructions governing the issuance of 1921 automobile license plates have been received by the Coshocton Automobile Club, which has charge of the distribution in Coshocton-co. from the state registrar of automobiles. The instructions are as follows: License plates for 1921 cannot be used on automobiles before January 1, 1921. All cars used prior to that date must be provided with 1920 licenses; plates for 1921 will be placed on sale to the public on December 27, providing a sufficient supply has been received from the state to warrant opening of the sale at various points.

Banks all over the country will add the auto club in distributing these plates. The Coshocton Automobile Club handles and distributes these plates without any remuneration. This is done as a service to all motorists, saving them time and expense in securing their 1921 licenses. It also saves the state much expense for postage and clerical help.

Coshocton Mon At Cable, Ohio, Cuts Price On Sugar

A former Coshocton man, Fred Robinson, now a grocer in Cable, Ohio, a village northeast of Urbana, has taken the initiative in the work of readjusting prices in Cable, according to an advertisement in Thursday's issue of the Democrat-Citizen, a Champaign county paper. Mr. Robinson offers sugar at three pounds for a quarter. He also quotes other interesting prices on groceries.

Prof. R. A. Milliken of the University of Chicago, by the use of a new apparatus of his own devising, has obtained a photo of light waves which vibrate twice as rapidly as any previously detected and 30 times as rapidly as the waves of ordinary light. The apparatus is used in a vacuum.

OUTSIDE CONCERNS SEEK LOCATION IN CITY FOR PLANTS

Representatives from a Canton ice manufacturing company and an oil and gasoline Co. from Cleveland have recently been in town on business looking over the McDermott property which is located just north of the Coshocton Ice Co. plant on north Fifth-st. now owned by T. J. McDermott, of Coshocton, one of the McDermott heirs.

The property taken over by Mr. McDermott is located just east of north Fifth-st and due north from the ice company. A switch line of the Pennsylvania railroad runs full length thru the center of the property from Fifth-st to the main Pennsy line. The number of the lot is 47.

Mr. McDermott has not decided upon his plans since purchasing the property.

TRAPPIST MONK RENOUNCES VOWS TO TAKE A WIFE

At Age of 50 Says Life is Incomplete Without Love of Woman

'OTHERS ARE UNHAPPY'

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—After spending 20 years as a celibate in self-denial and prayer, James C. Biddle found life without romance as barren as the walls of the monastery which held him. As he sat with his bride of two days, blissfully happy, Biddle, former Trappist monk, today described the yearning in men behind monastery walls for freedom to live according to the dictates of the heart.

Biddle, a member of the prominent Philadelphia family of that name, is 50 years old and his bride, formerly Miss Mary Lena Gaines, of Warrenton, Va., 48.

"A man is never too old to follow the golden rule of romance," said the former monk.

"The love that comes to a man late in life is sometimes the most beneficial of all loves."

Biddle was 28 when he entered the Trappist monastery in Kentucky. A member of the High Episcopal church, he became a convert to Catholicism. "After 20 years I renounced my vows, unable to reconcile myself any longer to religion without freedom," he said.

"The love of God is the highest love, but life is incomplete without the love between man and woman. Every man must have the right to follow the dictates of his heart."

"I know that some of my fellow monks were as unhappy as I. To me it seemed a greater sin to remain in the monastery yearning for freedom than to renounce my vows. Now I know complete happiness."

Biddle has returned to the Episcopal church and may become a clergyman of that faith.

He and his bride will live, at Paradise, the bride's old home, near Warrenton, Va. "And it will be a real paradise to us," said Biddle, today, telling of his plans.

The bride is a daughter of the late Judge William Gaines, a member of a well known Virginia family. Biddle met her shortly after leaving the monastery.

He is the son of the late Thomas Biddle, former minister to Ecuador.

Asked whether he had been in love before he took his vows as a monk, Biddle answered:

"That's something I do not wish to discuss."

FIRE AT PAPER MILL THURSDAY DOES NO DAMAGE

The downtown fire department was called Thursday evening at 7 o'clock to extinguish a fire at the Coshocton Straw Paper Co. plant at the north end of Fourth-st. The blaze was caused by an overheated friction clutch in the rotary room.

The room in which the fire developed is of brick and concrete and the only damage done was the burning of a small quantity of straw.

Man Is Run Over By Moving House

CHUGWATER, Wyo., Dec. 17.—Fred Royal, 45, sustained serious injuries here when he was run over by a four-room house.

The building, being transported across town on wheels, ran over Royal when the latter stepped on it as he was crossing the street in front of the structure. It was necessary to "jack" the house up in order to extricate Royal.

Mistaken Identity

In the paternity case filed by Elizabeth Payne against Walter Spurr in Justice Abbott's court an error crept into the justice's docket when Mrs. Payne's husband's name was entered as Samuel instead of Jacob. Mrs. Payne was formerly Elizabeth Cox.

CALLED DESERTER. HE TELLS STORY OF GERMAN PLOT

Capt. John Willars.

Capt. John Willars, arrested recently on the charge of being a deserter from the U. S. army, is said to have told officials of a plan hatched during the war whereby German cadets were to come to the U. S. and enlist in the U. S. army. Willars denies the deserter charge.

POINDEXTER BILL MAY BE VOTED DOWN IN RECONSIDERING

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—Defeat of the PoinDEXTER anti-strike bill when the senate reconsiders the vote by which it was passed at yesterday's session was predicted today by senators who opposed it.

Senators Borah, Idaho; Johnson, California, and La Follette, of Wisconsin, three Republicans, who have led the opposition to the bill since Senator PoinDEXTER, of Washington, also a Republican, sponsored it last session, are behind the move to compel reconsideration of its passage.

It is understood they do not anticipate any serious opposition to their move. They point out the bill was quietly slipped thru while the floor was practically empty and when there was not a quorum of the senate present.

A canvass they have made of the situation since then has convinced them, it was said, that they are not alone indignant at the unusual circumstances under which the bill was passed. They believe there will be more than enough votes to insure not only its reconsideration, but its defeat. The formal motion made by Senator La Follette for reconsideration is now on the senate calendar, but the situation may be forced to a final issue any time he may care to request action on the motion.

The news of the bill's unheralded passage fell like a thunder clap in the headquarters of the A. F. of L. here, and impromptu conferences between labor leaders were instantly held. Phone lines between the headquarters and the offices of senators opposed to the anti-strike legislation were kept busy for some time.

CHARITY EDITION TO BE PUBLISHED FRIDAY, DEC. 24TH

The annual Elks' Charity Edition of the Tribune and Times-Age will be published Friday afternoon, December 24. The papers will be immediately placed on sale by the Elks' newsies, who will comb the city for funds to aid in their efforts to bring holiday cheer to the needy children of the city and the Coshocton kiddies at the Dover children's home.

It has been the custom in the past to publish the charity edition on the Saturday preceding Christmas, but this year, on account of the elaborate color supplement it will be impossible for the printers to get the edition ready before next Friday.

The Elks' charity committee will hold a meeting at the club rooms this evening to complete plans for the publication and sale of the edition, as well as the expenditure of the funds so realized.

Spirits Of Nitre Used for "Hooch"

"BUCYRUS," O., Dec. 17.—Here's a new one.

A local devotee at the shrine of the "kick-of-a-mule" visited a drug store. He asked for a quart of spirits of nitre, explaining he had "nine children, all ill with kidney trouble."

It developed that, thru a simple process, the purchaser removed the nitre, leaving a concoction of alcohol which, taken internally, will show the imbibor three moons where there should be but one.

Spirits of nitre contain about 80 per cent of alcohol.

GIGANTIC STEAL PLANNED BY THE RAILROADS WILL NOT BE ALLOWED

Expressed Intentions of the Prosperous Roads to Tap Company Till Thereby Robbing Government and the Public Stirs Interstate Commerce Commission to Active Opposition

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—A concerted move by many of the larger railroad systems to dodge big payments of federal and state taxes and provide a ledger "subit" fee for failing to improve their lines, by converting billions of dollars in cash out of their surplus funds, into non-taxable stock dividends, probably will be blocked by the interstate commerce commission if it became known today.

The commission holding power under the new rail law, to disapprove the scheme of the carriers is now almost solidly arrayed against the proposal.

The C. B. & Q. seeks to transfer $114,000,000 to its stockholders. A sensational attack on plan has been made by legal representatives of the western states traversed by this railroad. Previously the commission had under consideration an appeal from the D. L. & W. for the transfer of an amount closely approaching $100,000,000 in funds to stockholders in shape of stock gifts. Beneath the commission's policy of "slow haste" it developed today that the commission membership is individually hostile to this and kindred plans which they fear may block just contributions of the carriers to the treasury, or prevent badly needed improvements on the roads.

TABER AGAIN HEADS OHIO STATE GRANGE; CATON RE-ELECTED

CLEVELAND, Dec. 17.—A resolution requesting President-elect Warren G. Harding to appoint L. J. Taber of Barnesville secretary of agriculture in his cabinet was adopted at the closing session of the 48th annual convention of the Ohio State Grange here Thursday. The resolution is complimentary in nature, it was explained, and not the official action of the body.

Mr. Taber who for six years has been state master of the grange, was unanimously re-elected for two years today. Other officials, most of whom were re-elected, include:

C. A. Dyer, Columbus, overseer; H. A. Caton, Fresno, lecturer; Mrs. Emma Linker, Huron, chaplain; O. C. Demuth, New Philadelphia, treasurer; W. G. Vandenberg, Zanesville, secretary; G. F. Mason, Lisbon, steward; Hazel Tussing Zwayer, Columbus Flora. All were installed tonight.

A resolution to form with other farmers' organizations a state-wide co-operative buying and selling company was adopted. The report of the resolutions committee as adopted favors:

Establishment of rural police protection.

Close co-operation between the grange and the Ohio Farm Bureau federation.

To provide suitable homes for neglected children.

Legislation to require a bill of sale for every automobile in the state to be recorded with the auditor.

Enactment of the French-Capper truth-in-fabrics bill.

Immigration restrictions that will safeguard American citizenship.

Legislation making impossible the county merger or any other forcible annexation of outside territory to a city.

Repeal of the law preventing organization of new telephone companies where districts are already served.

Opposition of the Boston-Nolan bill which would tax all land over $10,000 in value 1 per cent.

Changes in the administration of the farm loan act to benefit a greater number of land owners.

Demand for a practical farmer as secretary of agriculture in Harding's cabinet.

Appointment of a farmer as member of Ohio commissions which affect agriculture.

Re-forestation of waste and idle lands in Ohio.

CRIME WAVE SWEEPS OVER METROPOLIS

Violent Series of Holdups and Robberies Engulfs Gotham

LOOT TOTALS MILLION

Citizens Launch Movement to Establish a Vigilance Committee

NEW YORK, Dec. 17.—With the metropolis experiencing the most violent series of robberies and holdups in many years a movement was afoot today for establishment of vigilance committees to give greater protection to life and property. On the heels of the daring robbery and murder of a Fifth-av jeweler whose place was looted of $50,000 in gems came the slaying early today of Floyd Horton, police lieutenant who attempted to capture some auto bandits at 148th-st and Broadway.

One of the bandits had entered an apartment and robbed the elevator man but fled when kicked on the shins by tenants after firing one shot. He jumped in a taxi, pursued by citizens when Horton on his way home in civilian dress jumped on the running board of the taxi and ordered the men to stop. The reply was a bullet sent under his heart which caused his death.

The bandits escaped. Horton told detectives shortly before he died that there were three men and a woman in the auto he tried to halt. The woman, he said, was sitting in front with the driver. Horton said when he had emptied his revolver into the car he saw the woman drop.

A general alarm was sent out by police today asking hospitals for prompt report on any woman seeking treatment for pistol wounds.

More than $1,000,000 in cash, jewelry and bonds have been stolen by armed thugs in greater New York during the past six weeks, records show. In many of the robberies there have been no arrests.

The slaying of Edwin W. Andrews, manufacturing jeweler on his eighth floor office on Fifth-av, caused the Sterling Silver Manufacturers Association to adopt resolutions condemning the failure of police to cope with the crime wave, appealing to Governor Smith and Mayor Hylan for greater protection and calling upon citizens to form vigilance committees.

Police believe the three masked men who looted Andrews' shop killed the proprietor with a gun having a Maxim silencer. Altho there was a score of detectives in the fashionable avenue below, the highwaymen escaped.

NEW YORK, Dec. 17.—Following a desperate battle with auto bandits in upper Broadway early today, in which police lieutenant and at least one armed thug was killed, Mayor John P. Hylan took official cognizance of the sensational crime wave that has recently engulfed the metropolis.

He called into conference the commissioner of police, Richard E. Enright.

Floyd Horton, police lieutenant, died bravely. After jumping on the running board of the fleeing taxicab containing the armed robbers—four men and one woman—Horton, unable to get the highwaymen to stop, aimed his revolver into the limousine, altho one bullet had pierced his chest below the heart.

Still conscious when taken to a hospital, Horton whispered to a detective:

"I'm sure I got two of them. Look in my pocket."

"Then he swooned. In his pocket was the number of the death car. The body of one of the robbers, a victim of Horton's revolver was found in the hallway of an apartment house, a few blocks from the scene of the battle. It was identified as that of Joseph Loresch, 22, an Italian, said by police to have a criminal record.

Michael Loresch, newspaper delivery van driver near whose apartment Joseph was found, was arrested today when he sought to take from a garage a blood bespattered car, with the number copied by Horton.

The arrest of Nicholas Loresch, another brother and of John Cavanaugh and Emma Brooks, quickly followed. The woman was wounded, police say, in the right arm near the elbow.

Before Horton died he said he thought he "got the woman."

RAILROAD MAN TELLS HOW HE "CAME BACK"

Mr. John W. Morris, Night Foreman of the Springfield Street Railway Car Shops, living at 801 Clinton street, Springfield, is very enthusiastic over Redex, the new Herbal Remedy. His experience will prove of great interest to sufferers from stomach troubles.

"I have been bothered with stomach trouble for years and tried about everything going to get relief, but nothing seemed to help me. Last winter I had a bad attack of influenza which left me worse off than ever, as I never got my strength back. I have had scarcely any appetite at all,
and hardly anything seemed to agree with me. My food seemed to sour and form gas, and I would invariably have severe pains in the pit of my stomach. I was very weak and rundown and hardly able to keep up with my work. When I started taking Redex a few weeks ago, but not now.

"The very first week I took this medicine it relieved me. I am able to eat anything I care for now, and don't have any come-back. My appetite is great and I am feeling fine in every way. I feel Redex credit for being the best medicine I have ever taken and I have tried about everything going. I am stronger and a great deal more contented, now that I am getting my health back, than I have been for years. It was one of the best moves I have ever made in my life when I started taking Redex, and I am grateful for it."

Come, friends! and join the "Christmas Club"
It's open now to you.
I really think it's great to save,
And surely you will, too.

Next time you pass the Peoples Bank,
Just step right in and say,
"I'm going to try some coin to save,
I'll start this very day."

And when you have a card made out,
You're glad you didn't wait,
But pleased to know you joined the Club
Before it was too late.

Then when the checks are all made out
And one is sent to you,
You'll smile and say, "I'm sure surprised;
Why, there's interest added, too!"

Then you will get a Savings Book
And have it put in there.
For when it's in the Peoples Bank,
You know it's in good care.

And when you open up your book,
With pride you'll look it over,
You'll think you surely was a dunce,
"I should have saved before!"

6th St. Theatre

The music of "Listen Lester" which comes to the Sixth Street theatre tonight has become nationally known. Its songs have been published and played in hotels and restaurants from coast to coast; one phonograph company has exclusive rights to many of its melodies, but the small boy whose verdict abetted by his whistle forecasts the success of the songs of a musical comedy, long ago proclaimed a victory for the songs of "Listen Lester."

"Two is Company" is a captivating song sung by Mary Dodge and Jack Griffin, her sweetheart, and into which William Penn, Jr., the hotel clerk intrudes much to the displeasure of the others. "A Very Good Baby in the Daytime, but a Bad, Bad Baby at Night," is a childlike confession from one Arbutus Quilty, the pretty villainess who comes to Florida to track her former suitor. "I'd Love To," is another song sung by Arbutus Quilty, who is accompanied by the hotel clerk who agrees with her without reserve. "See her First" is a bit of sage advice given by said clerk who in years spent at a bathing beach has become "wise" to the illusions cast by layers of garments. He would pass a law advocating bathing suits for women as a national uniform.

Altogether "Listen Lester," which is under the management of John Cort and the work of Harry L. Cort, George E. Stoddard and Harold Orloff, is a vibrant collection of dance, woman, and song which will long be cherished in the memory of Coshocton theatre goers.

TROOPS SENT TO QUELL A REVOLT JOIN THE RADICALS

LONDON, Dec. 17.—Large numbers of Czechoslovak troops that went into the revolutionary centers to restore order have deserted to the rebels according to an exchange telegraph dispatch from Copenhagen today quoting reports received in Copenhagen from the Prague. SEEKS RESTRICTION OF IMMIGRATION ON RATIO BASIS

Sen. William P. Dillingham.

Senator William P. Dillingham of New Hampshire has presented a measure to restrict immigration to five per cent annually of the nationals of each country now in the United States. This, Senator Dillingham claims, would bring in a much larger number of central and northern European immigrants.

MORE TROOPS ARE SENT TO IRELAND

LONDON, Dec. 17.—The war office is moving heavy reinforcements of troops into Ireland it was learned today. Two battalions have been sent since Sunday and eight other battalions are under orders to move. All of southwestern Ireland (the district under martial law) is being combed for Sinn Fein gunmen, said a dispatch to the Daily Sketch.

SORE JOINTS

Stiffness, Lamé Back Stone Bruises and Aches

For crippling effects of colds that settle in the joints and cause painful ailments as stiff neck, lame back, sore feet and twinges at the hip, knee or elbow, bathe the afflicted part with warm water and dry thoroughly in order to get the pores of the skin well open. Then, apply Krew-Pina liberally. Don't be afraid to rub it in—it won't blister. Massage the flesh about the sore joint.

For internal inflammations apply to the surface over the affected parts and in the nostrils upon retiring. Then draw the bed clothes in over the nose and inhale the medicinal vapors the warmth of the body causes Krew-Pina to give off.

Krew-Pina owes its tremendous success in relieving colds, croup, sore throat, lumbago, neuralgia, burns, cuts, bruises, sprains and other household ailments to the virtue of the simple home remedies of which it is entirely compounded and the scientific exactness of the formula which determines their proportions and makes the ointment both powerful and positively harmless. Senreco

The double-service tooth paste, keeps teeth clean AND GUMS HEALTHY.

Keeping the gums healthy and the mouth sweet is very important to health; more teeth are lost through the loosening of the tissue that holds the teeth in place than from decay.

Dental science to-day demands that a tooth paste must keep the gums healthy as well as clean the teeth.

Senreco was formulated to meet this requirement. Hundreds of dentists are prescribing and using Senreco because they have found that it does measure up to that standard.

SENRECO IS A WONDERFUL CLEANSER.

In addition to its remedial properties Senreco is a wonderful cleanser; acts directly on the mucin film, the basis of tartar; leaves the mouth cool and clean-feeling. As some one has expressed it—Senreco gives one a new idea on mouth cleanliness.

Get a tube to-day at your druggists or toilet counter—enjoy the healthy, cleanly feeling its use gives your mouth and gums. Notice how brilliantly white Senreco makes your teeth. It performs this two-fold service for you and yet costs no more than the ordinary, old-fashioned tooth paste that simply cleans the teeth and leaves a pleasant taste—

Farrell's A-1 NUT MARGARINE

The Choicest Spread for Bread is Made

Refined peanut oil and oil pressed from white meat of coconuts is churned with pasteurized milk.

This mixture in the form of thick cream is then crystalized by coming in contact with filtered ice water, and now has the appearance of snowflakes.

It is next put through butter-workers, or large rollers where most of the moisture is taken out and it is salted.

Then put in a room of medium temperature to permit the butter flavor to develop. It goes from there to the print making room.

Next to the cooler, and wrapping department. All in a white enameled factory, kept spotlessly clean.

Somebody Must Pay

SECRETARY HOUSTON'S reputation as a financier is not such as to lend extraordinary weight to his recommendations for a federal fiscal policy, nor are such of his proposals as are at all controversial likely to receive favorable consideration from the present congress. This session will have to provide the means to keep the government running and pay its essential bills, but nothing in the way of a deliberate and far-seeing system of taxation can be expected from it.

The interest in the secretary's report lies in its convenient statement of the revenue problems now facing us and its opening up of a taxation debate which is likely to go on merrily for some years to come.

The liabilities of the country are unescapable. Our gross public debt stood on Oct. 31 of this year at $24,062,509,672.96. Of this amount, approximately seven and one-half billions were war obligations, due by May, 1923, to which must be added the normal expenses of government, amounting to not less than one billion dollars a year, and to which must also be added for the current year more than one billion dollars for the railroads.

"Revision of taxes," says Mr. Houston, "should be effected. There can and should be a better distribution of the tax burden. Unwise taxes should be eliminated. But any scheme which would after this fiscal year yield for several years to come less than four billions of dollars would be incompatible with public safety and sound finance. And the country should face the fact that present taxes even may not in the future be relied upon to yield the needed income."

Last year's total net receipts were more than six and a half billion dollars and the net expenditures a little less; the net expenditures for the fiscal year of 1921, if floating indebtedness maturing within the year were absorbed would be nearly eight billion dollars; and after that the needs of the government are likely to be nearer five billion than four billion. The present rate of taxes, if maintained under the conditions prevailing last year, would more than meet requirements after this year, but the sources of the income tax, the excess profits tax, and the corporations tax have dried up considerably and may dry up still more.

The question of taxation therefore resolves itself into a question as to who shall pay. On this point Secretary Houston's major proposal is that the surtax on incomes above $100,000 a year shall be reduced and the ordinary tax on the lower incomes increased. He demonstrates that the owners of the larger incomes have succeeded, legitimately or otherwise, in evading their taxes, and therefore suggests that they be relieved of those that they cannot be induced to pay. Here he leaves the subject of taxation and enters that of economic policy. He proposes so to shift taxation that the few hundred Americans, who receive more than $300,000 a year, or the few thousand who receive more than $100,000 a year, will be persuaded to put their surplus into taxable securities. Congress may approve this principle; the man in the street will not.

The repeal of the excess profits tax is a step for which most business men will devoutly pray, but the main issue here is how the burden will be distributed. It is not clear that Mr. Houston's plan would remove it from the shoulders of the income class which now pays it, and, on the whole, ought to pay it. As for the small fry consumption and luxury taxes, they are a nuisance which Mr. Houston's proposals would do little to abate.

Whatever happens somebody must pay the taxes. Even by the strictest economy and under a Republican administration there can be no substantial reduction in the total amount that must be collected each year for several years to come.

WALT MASON

SAGE COUNSEL

The Christmas season comes apace when smiles will hang from every face. The Christmas spirit, for a time will make our lives a thing sublime. Alas! hebrew me and do not last! The Christmas spirit does not last! A day or two it warms our hearts then straightway shrivels and departs, why does it chase itself so soon, and leave us lives all out of tune? It is because we eat too much of turkey, pudding pies and such, the Christmas spirit cannot dwell where people are dispensable. The Christmas morning finds us calm, the season like a soothing balm, has healed the troubles and the cares that man through weary workdays bears. We look with kind and loving eyes upon our in-laws, fellows, we send some peanuts to the poor, and think the Spirit will endure. And then we eat a gorgeous meal, including turkey, ducks and veal and press the kind that mother made—and doughnuts, cakes and marmalade. At night our burdened innards balk and thru long hours the floor we walk and in the morning cold and gray the morning after Christmas Day we groan, ing have the sleepless night, and care no how for peace on earth. And now I spring some good advice, which followed up, will cut much ice. Eat humble grub on Christmas Day, and give the gorgeous things away.

It was inevitable—yet rather unexpected. One of the large department stores has installed a counter on the main floor where nothing but flasks are sold. Flasks of silver, gold and gun metal. Some studded with jewels and all have places where they might be engraved. There was one I saw of 14 karat gold, curved to fit the pocket and studded with diamonds. Young bloods who formerly delighted in displaying their elegant cigarette cases now take the same pleasure in exhibiting a nifty flask.

A patient in a New York hospital died from a leopard's bite recently. The clerk saw under the report the line "Cause—Leopard's bite." He thought it a mistake and so made it in the official record "Leprosy." And as a result the entire medical machinery of the city was given a jolt. The board of health called a special meeting and one saffron journal had an eight column scare head of a leprosy epidemic.

A Christmas party of very elaborate appointments was given by the celluloid department of the American Art Works in the dining room at the north plant, Thursday evening. In-keeping with the Yuletide season, the decorative color scheme, red, green and white was very effectively used. Above the long table where the forty guests were seated, a huge arbor was erected. This was covered with red and green crepe paper, entwined throughout with white chrysanthemums and Christmas bells suspended from the trellis above. A crystal basket filled with white carnations adorned the center of the table and around this a large wreath of greenery and red carnations was artistically used. Red ribbon was tied to the handle, the streamers extending out to the four corners where they were caught by kowpies, appropriately dressed. At either end were crystal baskets, full of the white flowers, the handles be-

WIFE BUILT UP HER HUSBAND'S HEALTH QUICK

Seems Like Another Man, Sleeps Great Deal Better Now MORE STRENGTH AND ENERGY NOW

"My husband was in a rundown condition and in poor health, but isn't that way any longer. He seems like another man. He sleeps a great deal better now and seems to have more strength and energy. He seems so changed—always jolly and cheerful now. I wouldn't begrudge the price of Earle's Hypo-Cod if it cost double what it does," declared Mrs. Joe Packard, wife of the well known White Automobile Co. machinist of Cleveland, residing at 933 E. 74th St., N. E.

"Mr. Packard," continued his wife, "works at night and has been sleeping very poorly in the day time. He was all worn out. His appetite was poor and the food he ate didn't seem to give him strength. He simply dragged around and at times was nervous, irritable, cross and grouchy. He surely needed a tonic so I asked a friend of ours who is a druggist with the Marshall Drug Co., what I had better get to build up my husband and he said Earle's Hypo-Cod was the best thing I could buy, so I got a bottle and sure like I said before, he is in splendid health these days and such a difference—it is wonderful and I think this tonic is a medicine that will help anyone," continued Mrs. Packard.

Thousands of men drag home weary, worn out and half sick—eat half heartedly, always feel tired, never want to go any place, never take any interest in things and are often grouchy, when just a few days treatment at home with a good tonic would surprise them. If you are in need of a good tonic drop in at the drug store tonight and take home a bottle of genuine Earle's Hypo-Cod in the orange colored carton.

Earle's Hypo-Cod is sold here by all good druggists and the leading druggists in all nearby towns.

Plans have been completed for a Christmas entertainment to be given Thursday evening at Grace M. E. church in New Castle. A good program has been planned to keep that in mind and arrange to be present.

Members of Alpha Pi fraternity are issuing invitations for a dance to be given Friday evening, the twenty-fourth, in Moose hall. Howard's popular orchestra has been engaged for the occasion.

The Standard Bearers society of West Bedford M. E. church held their regular meeting Saturday evening in the church parlors, with Miss Dossie Clark as leader. Miss Clarke gave the third chapter of their study book, followed with very good readings by Miss Blanche Steffe, Miss Edith Lee, Miss Ethel Clark and Miss Frances Leitner. A piano solo by Miss Hazel Leiter, was thoroughly enjoyed. The next meeting will be held at the church Saturday afternoon, January the eighth.

Miss Esther Jones, who is in nurses training at St. Joseph's hospital, South Bend, Ind., will come next week for a two weeks vacation with her mother, Mrs. Clara Jones, 509 south Sixth-st.

Says Phosphate is What Thin Nervous People Need.

The organic phosphate (discovered by Pelouze, the French scientist) which is known to druggists in this country as Bitro-Phosphate, and which is safe to take as well as inexpensive, is now being highly recommended by many physicians as a real strength builder and for nervousness and general run-down conditions. Scores of people all over the country have been benefited by this remedy. Wimmer Arnold Drug Co. and all good druggists keep a supply of Bitro-Phosphate. Help! Men Are Wearing Corsets And Dimples

CHICAGO, Dec. 17.—More men has set out to out prinp women, according to hair dressers, manicurists and women masseurs, here today. So far have the men gone in their efforts that they are beginning to wear corsets, according to a woman manager of a large retail corset establishment.

Miss Helen Smith, a beauty doctor, said men visited women's beauty parlors in preference to barber shops. "They want their eye brows fixed so that the hairs will be even and sometimes have hair shaved off the top of their foreheads," she said.

Plastic surgery, according to Madame Jeanne Silver, is being utilized by men to bring out dimples. Particular attention is being given their nails, manicurists said.

"The men are finding out that women are more adept at bringing out their good looks," said a masseur. "And why shouldn't they? The men want to look well before their women friends, and who should they go to but a woman to fix them up?"

The beauty experts deny there is any tendency on the part of the men to be effeminate. Most of the demand for corsets come from fat men, who want to reduce, the manager of the corset store said. "A woman wears a corset to show her lines and some men who are fleshy do it to hide their bulkiness," she said. "Corsets for men," she said, are of a narrow make and fit over the hips.

Suffers Serious Break Down

"Two years ago I spent 3 months in hospital under stomach and bowel specialists for mucus colitis, auto intoxication, etc., which caused awful bloating and colic attacks. My friends gave me up. I returned home and on the advice of Mrs. Wright, a friend, tried Mayr's Wonderful Remedy with wonderful results. Am now in best of health." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. Wimmer Arnold Co., and druggists everywhere.

CATARRHAL DEAFNESS MAY BE OVERCOME

If you have Catarrhal Deafness or are even just a little hard of hearing or have head noises go to your druggist and get 1 ounce of Parminit (double strength), and add to it 1-4 pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar. Take 1 tablespoonful four times a day. This will often bring quick relief from the distressing head noises. Clogged nostrils should open, breathing become easy and the mucus stop dropping into the throat. It is easy to prepare, costs little and is pleasant to take. Anyone losing hearing or who has Catarrhal Deafness or head noises should give this prescription a trial. For sale by Wimmer-Aronold Co.

STEEL PLANTS AT PITTSBURG AND YOUNGSTOWN CLOSE

PITTSBURG, Dec. 17.—Two thousand employees of the Allegheny steel plant at Tarentum are idle today. The plant closed down indefinitely last night for lack of orders, according to official announcement. Only a few men as guards will be retained. Official announcement today at the offices of the West Penn steel company said that the plant would be entirely closed by December 21. The bar mill closed today and other departments are being gradually shut down for an indefinite period. Nine hundred workers will lose their jobs. The Braeburn steel plant at Braeburn has been operating intermittently since the first of October.

YOUNGSTOWN, Dec. 17.—Practically every steel plant in the Mahoning valley, employing approximately 50,000 men will be idle from next Saturday until the first of the year, it was predicted here this afternoon. Business is so stagnated, according to the head of one of the local companies, that a suspension of operations will become general.

The following plants are idle at present: Newton Steel Co., Falcon Steel Co., Mahoning Steel and Iron Co., and the Liberty plant of The Trumbull Steel Co. at Warren. Unemployed in these plants is estimated at 40,000. Brier Hill Steel Co. and Republic Iron & Steel Co., together employing about 12,000 men are working about 50 per cent. Operations at the plants of Sharon Steel Hoop Co., employing about 1200 men at Youngstown, Lovellville and Sharon are curtailed or wholly suspended. Carnegie Steel with 6,000 workers in Youngstown district is operating about 90 per cent. Youngstown Sheet and Tube Co., normally employing 15,000 men is at present at 60 per cent and its president, James Campbell, states new orders are being booked at 25 per cent capacity. Fabricating industries are working generally about 60 per cent.

BRYAN WOULD GIVE ALLIES 10 BILLIONS FOR LASTING PEACE

COLUMBUS, Dec. 17.—"I know nothing that is going to make the world what it ought to be except belief in God and, with that belief, our nation can become the greatest nation. If it takes the $10,000,000,000 our allies owe us and buys world peace forever," declared William J. Bryan addressing a local audience on "Brute or Brother."

"If we get world peace forever, give them the $10,000,000,000," continued the former secretary of state. "Instead of tremendous expenditure for the preparation for war and the buying of ships and guns and training men to kill, isn't it worth while to stop in this mad rush to bankruptcy and build a world on the doctrine of peace?" he inquired.

Declaring that professional soldiers "don't realize any other way of settling problems than by war," he asked whether there is any place for the spirit of brotherhood when "one man's life is pitted against another man's life."

Calling attention to profiteers whose profits ranged from 100 per cent to 500 per cent Bryan said the most important question to be decided in the world is whether its peoples are going to be brothers and deal with their fellowmen in the spirit of brotherhood, or hunt them as beasts of prey.

YOUTHFUL DANCE DRESS IS ALWAYS OF SILK TAFFETA

Robust and crisp as always, taffeta holds its own in the dancing gowns for the young miss. The frock is very pretty, although it is simple and modest. It is fashioned of white taffeta embroidered in black. A flower design is worked on the patters of the skirt and black velvet accents the short, tight little sleeves. The surprise bodice is good for the youthful figure and the whole gives a charming effect of studied simplicity.

PILGRIM POSTAGE STAMP SERIES IS SOON TO APPEAR

The local postoffice has just received a bulletin giving notice of the issuance of a special series of postage stamps in commemoration of the centenary of the landing of the Pilgrims, in December of 1620.

The stamps are to be issued in three denominations. The one cent will be green, as usual, and carry a picture of the "Mayflower." The two cent stamp will have a representation of the "Landing of the Pilgrims." The blue five cent stamp will bear the picture of the "Signing of the Compact."

The dimensions of the stamps are approximately 1.1-1.8 inches by .4 inches. In a straight horizontal line at the top are the words, "Pilgrim Centenary," directly below at the left and right are the years "1620" and "1920." Beneath the subject appears its title upon a curving ribbon. Within circles in the two lower corners are numerals of denomination, with the word "cents" in a straight horizontal line between. The border at the left of the picture represents a vertical row of Hawthorn blossoms (the British Mayflower), the border in the right (contains a row of trailing arbutus (the American Mayflower) which tradition says was named by the Pilgrims after their ship.

The Pilgrim centenary stamps will be issued soon by the postmaster general.

LEGION PUTS TASK OF FORMULATING A PAYMENT PLAN ON SENATE COMMITTEE

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17—"Don't make the men who bore the brunt during the war bear the further burden of economic retrenchment in the consideration of adjusted compensation legislation," declared Gilbert Betterman, chairman of the legislative committee of the American Legion today in his final argument before the senate finance committee considering soldier and legislation.

"Would there be objection by the American Legion because of the present economic condition to the passage of the bill so that payments could be made January 1, 1922?" Senator McCumber, acting chairman of the committee asked.

"We do not wish to be excused but we feel the question can be better worked out by your committee than by the legion," Betterman declared.

Varsity Team Too Much For Alumni Thursday Night

Undergraduate Five Wins Basketball Game By a 37 to 15 Score

Excellent guarding by Senter and Wagner and clever offensive work by Hopper, Trotman and Callahan in the game Thursday night when the varsity five of the Central high defeated the Alumni aggregation at the Central high gym by the score of 37 to 15.

The varsity boys were clever with their floor work in getting the ball toward the enemy's basket, but after they had the ball to the exact spot, they were weak on basket shooting. Their floor work was excellent.

The Alumni five made no substitutions during the game. They deserve credit for playing a first class game. Reed and Richards, the right and left forwards for the Alumni outfits showed class. They were the stars of the Alumni aggregation. J. Wagner at right guard for the Alumni showed up in good style but, like Ricketts and Thompson could not keep the pace.

Coach Karch had 18 basketball tossers in uniform to oppose the Alumni five. The Alumni did not weaken although they were forced to battle against new men at intervals.

About 250 spectators witnessed the game.

In order to accommodate the crowd that attends the regular games at the Central gym, the carpenters have erected bleachers on both sides of the basketball court, to take care of 400 spectators.

The next game scheduled for the local varsity five is with Columbus Trades high here Wednesday evening, December 22.

A Pair of Shoes

By RALPH HAMILTON

(© 1920, Western Newspaper Union)

She was a creature of warm, sympathetic and generous impulses. Although the charity she extended was undemonstrative and her acts of kindness hidden from public view as far as possible. It was at a revival meeting in the slums, whither Norma Lunt had accompanied her brother, a clergyman, to play the organ for the occasion that one of her impetuous exhibitions of good heartedness materialized, and the object of her liberality was a poorly dressed girl of her own age, who had come into the hall half perished with the cold.

Norma noted her thin and threadbare garb and most of all the broken, snow-clogged shoes. A pitying emotion induced her to quietly remove to a seat near the girl. As quietly she removed her own well kept shoes unnoticed, placed them on the floor and whispered to the other:

"Before you go out again put on these comfortable shoes—they are for you. Keep up a brave heart; dear. You look like a good girl and if you will give me your address I will see you again."

So the wondering, but delighted girl named a tenement location and had no idea that Norma, when she left the place later, did so in her stocking feet. Norma was infused with a thrilling spirit of self sacrifice and heroism that satisfied her, but was laid up with the effects of her exposure for a full month afterward. The incident got into the papers and her name appeared in connection with it. When she was recovered and went to search for Alice Lunt, she found she had moved away from the tenement where she had formerly lived.

In the course of a few months Norma's brother broke down in health and was offered a home on a ranch in New Mexico by an old friend of his dead father. Gerald went thither accompanied by Norma, whose life had been always linked closely with his own. The old cattle raiser prepared for them a little cottage with attractive floor surroundings, and saw to it that they lived something more than comfortably. His business was an extensive one and there was some bookkeeping to do, which Norma attended to and received for this service a small, but regular recompense. Gerald had been advised to give up his profession, as his voice had failed him. He took to writing books, but with indifferent success. The returns from the same were spasmodic. He was very much discouraged when one day he received a visit from his publisher.

"Lunt," he said, "you were born and brought up in the South. I have a client with money who wishes to have a series of books written about that section. He has outlined six of these and all you have to do is to fill in the plot and details. You are to be paid two thousand dollars a book, and if they take you will receive fifty per cent of the profits. He does not wish to appear as the author at all, but believes he knows the literary tastes of his possible reading clientele and that the books will make a good hit and turn out a profitable speculation."

It was wonderful how Gerald Lunt braced up after two volumes had been published and his reputation was made and a good income guaranteed. It was when he was fully rejuvenated in spirit and health that a lively young lady, Alice Trevor, became a summer boarder at the home of a neighbor.

From the first Norma noticed her memory to get an inkling of where she had seen that charming face before, but she could not solve the question and nothing that Miss Trevor said encouraged her. They became close friends and Gerald Lunt for the first time in his life was attracted by a member of the opposite sex.

Miss Trevor grew to so like Norma that she protracted her stay. The latter was glad to notice the interest her brother took in the young lady, for she seemed to be his equal in culture and education. It was given out generally that she was quite wealthy, through an inheritance from a father by adoption.

"We are engaged, Norma," announced Gerald in his quiet, even tones one day. "Alice wishes to see you particularly about it this afternoon. Will you go and see her dear?"

"Certainly, and with the heartiest congratulations," replied Norma warmly. "I shall welcome her as a sister and I know she will make you happy."

A fluttering emotion pervaded the lovely Alice as Norma clasped her in a warm sisterly embrace. Then she said:

"I have a great deal to tell you," and she closed and locked the door of her room. Then she drew a mahogany case from the wardrobe and opened its cover. Within reposed a pair of shoes. In wonder Norma stared.

"You do not recall them, or myself?" questioned Miss Trevor. "I am the Alice Lunt who received those from you at the darkest hour of my life, and your kindness and the golden words of your brother saved me from sinking utterly under poverty and discouragement. A little later I was adopted by a rich relative under my present name. It is I who have encouraged the enterprise of the books written by Gerald. Oh! my dear, love me, love me, both of you, for my life has been one long cherished memory of both of you, bringing about the happiest hour of my life as his chosen bride."

PEOPLE'S FORUM

THE ENIGMA OF CIVILIZATION

Editor The Tribune:

Encouraged by the publication of my latest effusion to expect you to consider another one. I venture to appropriate your two splendid editorials, "Is the Awakening Near?" and "The Endless Cycle," of December 13 and 14 respectively, as a foundation for an extension of the principles of land value taxation.

But before taking up my theme, permit me to compliment you on the individuality, ability and that manifested in your editorials. "Can any good editorial come out of a country town?" indicates the cynical, sneering manner in which most of us who are wedded to metropolitan dailies turn over to the rural editorial page without even so much as a curious glance. Let me here pay my respects to The Coshocton Tribune as an exception. Thru its editorials it is building an individuality and character which are earning for The Tribune an ever increasing prestige.

I know from experience that at desks to which many papers come by way of exchange, The Coshocton Tribune, in order that its editorials may be read, is permitted to remain with the favorite metropolitan dailies long after the other papers are consigned to the waste basket. A paper has individuality because of its editorials, and a town is often known by its paper. Coshocton can expect much in the way of prestige and fame thru The Coshocton Tribune.

You state the paradox and enigma of our vaunted civilization in the sentence following: "On a planet blessed by nature with wealth beyond the dreams of avarice, we are assured on the highest authorities that we are entering on another winter of soup houses and bread lines."

This fact is indeed impressive. The fact that in spite of our enormous wealth in natural resources, the tremendous production power of our industry, and the uncanny creative power of our inventive genius, over half of the people should be either in the throes or on the verge of want and distress, constitutes the severest indictment of our economic system that can be drawn.

But you do not do justice to the puerility of our statesmen by pointing out how these modern Neros fliddle on such strings as a "high protective tariff" to keep out the pauper made goods of the old world," while our economic system collapses. We have tried protection. We have tried "tariff for revenue only." And we have had bread lines and soup houses under both. When in view of the proved inefficiency of tariffs, either high or low, our leaders still place upon this string they out-Nero Nero. In comparison his intellect towers above theirs.

If it is protection against foreign-made goods that we need why not put our battalions to work and blockade our ports. Let's have real protection. Close every port; make it absolutely airtight so that not even a grain of foreign wheat can reach our shores. This is submitted for the consideration of those who applaud our Neros and their protective tariff tune. Let these clappers, while the fiddlers pause to resin their bows, contemplate this country enjoying a full measure of protection.

The "stabilizer" which you ask for and point out as being sorely needed can be had only when collectively we become mentally big enough to recognize little, simple fundamental facts. Our troubles now are caused by too many artificial barriers which we have erected to impede production and trade.

To begin with all wealth must be produced by the application of labor to land. But so much land is held out of use there is an artificial scarcity of this basic necessity. This makes land costs exceedingly high, and high land costs are a barrier which bar labor and capital from the opportunities for production which now lie idle.

At the other end—the market end—we see purchasing power curtailed by the high prices which are necessary to support the present high land values and to pay the heavy taxes which government levies upon industry. Shoe factories must close not because people do not need shoes, but because people cannot pay the prices which are made necessary by land costs and taxes. Distributors of farm products to protect themselves must ask prices from the ultimate consumer which prevent an absorption of the crops by the market, altho the market is hungry. The flow of farm produce to ultimate consumer is checked by these artificial barriers and prices are forced down for the farmers.

To add to these and other artificial barriers the barrier of a higher tariff would be compounding folly. What is needed is freedom from all restraints—freedom to use natural resources for production—freedom to produce unhindered by taxes—freedom to trade unhindered by tariffs. We must make the country safe for industry. Remove all our artificial encumbrances and restore the natural law of supply and demand.

Our socialistic, paternalistic scheme has failed. Confiscation of surplus earnings and governmental suppression of individual initiative has brought disaster. The laborer is worthy of his hire; let's return to God's way and give to man not only the opportunity to produce, but the freedom to trade and the privilege of retaining as his reward the product of his labor undiminished by taxation. This is God's way; for it was so in the beginning. And when this free man climbed from obscurity, and ceased climbing only when stopped by an unnatural land tenure and governmental interference.

You are to be congratulated for suggesting that the underlying cause of our troubles is land speculation. If there. Once we use our sovereign

WHEN YOU WAKE UP DRINK GLASS OF HOT WATER

Wash poisons and toxins from system before putting food into stomach.

Wash yourself on the inside before breakfast like you do on the outside. This is vastly more important because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, causing illness, while the bowel pores do.

For every ounce of food taken into the stomach, nearly an ounce of waste material must be carried out of the body. If this waste is not eliminated daily by a quickly fermenting and generates poisons, gases and toxins which are absorbed or sucked into the blood stream, through the lymph ducts which should suck only nourishment.

A splendid health measure is to drink, before breakfast each day, a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of lime stone phosphate in it, which is a harmless way to wash these poisons from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels, thus cleansing, sweetening and freshening the alimentary canal before eating more food.

A quarter pound of lime stone phosphate costs but very little at the drug store, but is sufficient to make anyone an enthusiast on inside bathing.
